UTAH'S GREAT GAIN IN PRODUCTION OF SILVER

Mint Estimate of the Precious Metals Mined in the United States in the Last Calendar Year.

The Totals Show a Falling Off in Both Gold and Silver From the Output of 1900.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 25.—George E. Roberts, director of the mint, has issued his final estimate of the production of gold and silver in the United States during the calendar year 1901. Mr. Roberts' statement shows that during the year the United States produced 2,805,000 ounces of gold, valued at $78,666,700; a decrease of $24,200, or 0.30 per cent, as compared with the yield of 1900.

Ten of the nineteen states and territories yielding gold showed an increased production—California leading with $1,025,200, an increase due entirely to the normal development of the mining industry.

Nevada showed the material gain of $57,800, which came largely from the newly discovered camp on Tonopah, in Nye county, although nearly every county in the state increased its production. South Dakota also made a gain of $301,900; Idaho, $144,900, and Oregon $123,400.

The greatest decrease, amounting to $1,283,300, was in Alaska. This was due to lateness of the season, which delayed the opening of the placers, and to litigation, which interfered with the development of the industry.

Colorado diminished $1,135,900, a fact explained by the decline in the grade of ores extracted, the tonnage having increased.

Utah's Great Gain.

The silver yield for 1901 amounted to $5,214,000, or 100 per cent, as compared with $3,123,400, which was 2,433,000 ounces, or 5 per cent less than it was in 1900. The greatest gain—1,493,200 ounces—was in Utah, almost all of which came from the Park City district. Nevada, New Mexico and Washington also made gains. The production of Colorado, owing to the decline in the grade of ores extracted, fell off 2,048,100 fine ounces, while Montana's yield diminished 1,963,700 ounces. Idaho's $58,200, and South Dakota's 438,200.

The total value of the precious metals produced by the United States in 1901 amounted to $111,755,100, which was $1,964,100, or 2 per cent, less than the yield for 1900.

ILLITERATES ARE FEWER TEDDY AND THE TRUSTS

Gratifying Progress in Education in the United States—Greatest Advance in Cities.

Washington, Aug. 25.—The census office today presented a preliminary report on illiteracy among men of voting age in city and country districts in the census year 1900. The report included under the term "illiterate" that who can neither read nor write, and also a small number who can read but cannot write.

In the United States as a whole, excluding Alaska and Hawaii, the male population at least 21 years of age and living in cities which had at least 25,000 inhabitants, was 5,885,444, of whom 239,225, or 4 per cent, were reported as illiterate. In the rest of the country the number of men of voting age was 15,248,555, of whom 1,497,137, or 9.8 per cent, were reported as illiterate.

These figures indicate that illiteracy among adult males is less than half as prevalent in the United States as it is in the rest of the United States. The difference, the report says, is due largely to the fact that the urban population of the country is more concentrated in the northern and western states, and illiteracy is less frequent there than in other parts of the country.

Illiteracy among adults, the report says, is found in the large cities less frequently than elsewhere in all the states and territories, except New Hampshire, New York, and Oregon. The report continues:

"As the difference between the large cities and the rest of the country in the northern states is affected by the presence in the cities of large numbers of illiterate immigrants, so in the southern states the same difference may be affected by the presence of the negro population."

The report concludes as follows: "Among the native-born population, the difference between the population of large cities in the north and in the south in the matter of illiteracy are comparatively slight, but in the smaller cities and rural districts of the south a considerable per cent of the adult population have not acquired the elements of book education."

"As a rule a population living in large cities is likely to include a smaller proportion of illiteracy than a population scattered over a sparsely settled area and more difficult to reach by an effective system of public schools."

MURDER COMMITTED NEAR DOWNEY STATION, IDAHO

Half-consumed Body of a Printer Named Bruce Found Roasting in a Pile of Blazing Ties.

Indications That the Man Had Been Killed and an Effort Made to Conceal the Crime.

(Special to The Herald.)
POCATELLO, Aug. 25.—The body of a man, half consumed by fire, was found near Downey station yesterday afternoon. The corner and night Coroner Bean and Deputy Sheriff Griffiths left for the scene of the gruesome discovery. A telephone message from Coroner Bean this afternoon gave details of what seemed to have been a murder, coupled with a horrible attempt to cover up the crime.

The remains were found a mile and a half north of Downey station, and have since been identified as those of a man named Bruce, who was known as a printer in Pocatello years ago. Lately he has been through that section of the country as a sort of strolling linker.

When found the body was a mass of roasting flesh, blackened almost beyond all recognition. The burning lay across the body and the charred remains of a burned cloth were over the face. Burning ties had been heaped around the body and a little more time would have consumed it completely.

Coroner Bean, in his investigation, found three bad cuts on the head, one above the left eye and two on the back of the head. From the position of the body, he is confident that the man was murdered and then placed among the burning ties in order that all evidence of the crime might be obliterated.

KILLED HIS FATHER HELD FINAL SESSION

Young Indian of Deep Creek Railroad Assessments Finally Drinks Too Much Firewater and Commits Murder.

Tooele City, Utah, Aug. 25.—The constable from Deep Creek arrived here this morning, having in custody a young Indian named Upah, who is charged with the murder of his father, "Lucky Joe."

The crime was committed on the 11th of August. Young Upah had imbibed some bad "firewater" a row ensued and the son struck the father over the head with a rifle, knocking him down, and continued to beat him until dead.

The murdered Indian, "Lucky Joe," was one of the bad Indians during the early days when the stage coach ran through that section of the country. He is said to be responsible for taking a leading part in the many depredations that were committed in those days.

Upah is now in the county jail, where he will remain until the district court convenes.

Boise, Ida., Aug. 25.—The state board of equalization held its final session today, at which the principal action taken was the change of railroad assessments.

The main lines of the Great Northern and Northern Pacific in Kootenai were increased to a valuation of $3,500 per mile, to correspond with that of other roads in the state. The divided vote of the board on the question was as follows:

Yeas—Governor Hunt, Secretary of State Bassett and State Treasurer Plummer.

Noes—Attorney General Martin and State Auditor Jones.

The branch lines were changed, the Salmon river branch of the Oregon Short Line and the Idaho Northern, which were under construction last year, being, of course, very materially changed. The following table shows the differences:

Salmon river branch of the Oregon Short Line: 1901, $500; 1902, $2,500. B. N. & O. 1901, $2,500; 1902, $3,500. Idaho Northern: 1901, $100; 1902, $2,500. P. & E. N.: 1901, $3,750; 1902, $3,750.

The Western Union was assessed at $600 per mile for poles and the first wire, an increase of $5, with a $15 raise for each additional wire, or a raise of $2 per mile. The Rocky Mountain Bell and Idaho Indiantel were assessed at $100 per mile for first wire, and $15 per mile for additional wire. The tax on the various companies was also fixed by the board according to apportionment. This completes the work of the organization, so an adjournment was taken sine die.

HIS MIND WAS UNHINGED.

Millionaire Jumps From the Steamer Coptic and is Drowned.

(Correspondence of the Associated Press.)
Honolulu, Aug. 16 (via San Francisco, Aug. 20).—A. G. Mitchell, reputed to be a millionaire from Michigan, a passenger on the steamer Coptic, committed suicide Aug. 12 when the vessel was three days out from San Francisco. Mitchell, who was accompanied by Dr. C. E. Miller and a nurse, was reported to be on a trip around the world for his health. On the 12th he jumped overboard, falling into two ladies on the promenade deck. Suddenly he ran to the side of the vessel and sprang overboard. The steamer was stopped and a boat lowered, but there was no trace of Mitchell. It was believed by the steamship company that he had jumped under the propeller. His mind, it is thought, was unhinged by illness.

A. W. Mitchell was the head of the Michigan Lumber company at Cadillac, Mich. He had been in San Diego, Cal., for the past year. He leaves a son and daughter. Dr. Miller, who accompanied Mitchell, returned to San Francisco today. He says Mitchell's death was an accident and that the millionaire fell into the sea. This statement is disputed by passengers.

MAYOR OF GENTRY IN JAIL FOR BIGAMY

KANSAS CITY, Aug. 25.—A special to the Star from Emporia, Kan., says: James Pendleton, mayor of Gentry, Mo., confessed today to the sheriff of Lyons county and a number of his friends that he had committed bigamy. He had married a woman named Mrs. Grace Obley-Morris of Emporia, his second wife, who had caused his arrest upon the charge of bigamy.

Pendleton, who had been married to Mrs. C. S. Morris and John Cox, has a wife and five children at Gentry. He had, according to his own statement, married Miss Obley at Emporia last June, under the name of Morris. Ten days ago he appeared at Orlando, Okla., under the name of Cox. He started the story that his friend Morris had died, bought a coffin and buried the supposed dead man in a country cemetery near Orlando. Emporia friends, believing that Morris had been murdered, had the coffin exhumed, where it was found to be empty. Pendleton was traced to Gentry and arrested yesterday morning. The sheriff at first refused to serve the warrant, because of Pendleton's position. He has been held to the October term for trial.
